Mr. William Casey
Director
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D.C. 20505

Dear Mr. Casey:

Let me apprise you of an incident which occurred when I attended the JCS-DIA Orientation 4-5 November 1981.

I followed the instructions mailed me (attached) and parked in the West Parking Lot as indicated on this map. You'll note the map says, "Parking Permits Not Necessary Here."

When I arrived at my car after the orientation period 4 November I had a violation resulting in a $10.00 fine for parking in a restricted area.

The next morning I took the ticket to [redacted] the orientation coordinator, who was most courteous and helpful. We went to talk to Mr. [redacted] CIA Office of Security, who was neither helpful nor concerned. He said he could not "fix" a ticket--which I did not request he do. [redacted] the uniformed policeman, said I should have obeyed the signs (indicating reserved parking for guests, which I thought I was) rather than the instruction I got in the mail telling me a "parking permit was not needed" in the West Lot. The final word of advice from [redacted] was that since I had violated the parking rules either I should pay the $10.00 or get the Orientation Course personnel to pay it for me.

Sir, the problem as I see it is not that I pay the $10.00, but the supercilious, disdainful attitude of certain Security Office personnel. This reflects badly on a respected organization like CIA. The bright side is the helpful, friendly attitude of [redacted] which almost--but not quite--makes up for the lack of concern by [redacted]

Sincerely,

Duane E. Vandenberg
